

NATHAN HALBACH

PRINCIPAL

Wisconsin

Utilizing in-depth knowledge of Wisconsin government affairs, Nathan provides valuable counsel to clients who need to navigate the Wisconsin state legislative, budget and administrative rulemaking processes.

Nathan has more than a decade of experience in government affairs, including as a former Clerk of the Senate Natural Resources Committee, while also adding strong capabilities in grassroots and public affairs work.

With an aptitude for interpreting the effects of legislative proposals, state budgets, amendments and administrative rules on behalf of clients, Nathan adds to the HB Strategies team a specialist view of the Wisconsin government. His expertise of Wisconsin lobbying and campaign finance ethics and regulations is especially valuable as the world of PACs continues to expand at a rapid pace.

Nathan's previous experience also includes having served as Deputy Director of Communications for a Democratic Senate majority leader and serving as legislative assistant to two Senate majority leaders.

Nathan is a graduate of Purdue University, and a member of the Association of Wisconsin Lobbyists.
